Johnnie Walker Classic 2007

It was the time of year to hit SA for the "Johnnie Walker Classic" at Empire Pool Lounge. Friday night consisted of a couple of knockout competition. A ladies knockout that Melbourne's "Kolbe Poole" and "Tracy Heath" battled for. There was also another big knockout that again the Vic's were in for and our own "Michael Scerri" took the cash. Go Vic' go!

Onto Saturday and the real competition was about to begin. Personally I thought I was in for a good butt whipping as I found I was on Empire's "Alec Evreniadis" table but to my surprise I actually qualified 3rd on my table. Very exciting for me as it's the first time I have qualified to the 2nd day. Yeah!! It was great to see so many Victorians there from all ends of the State and that most of them qualified to the 2nd day. To day 2 and it was down to the nitty gritty. 1st round half of us where knocked out (all good, there's always the blonks comp!). I came up against "Peter Panopoulos" of Elwood who ended my journey 3-1. Well done Peter and thanks for the fun games and congrats for making top 16. As the day went on, more people were slowly being knocked out until we came down to the select few who made the quarters. On the first table we saw "Mark Williams" v's "Paul Clack," Mark winning 4-2 (bad luck Paul). On the next table we had Vic Junior "Jake McCartney" v's "Russell Youlten," Jake winning 4-1. Next we had "Kelvin Lee" v's "Ash Bubner," Kelvin winning 4-2. And 1st but not least "Dave Rothall" v's Brenton Collier," Dave winning 4-1. Now it was time for change of tables for the Semi and Grand Finals. On table 1 we had "Kelvin Lee" (SA) v's "Jake McCartney" (Vic), Kelvin winning 4-3. Bad luck Jake, you did all of Victoria proud. On table 2 we had "Mark Williams" (SA) v's "Dave Rothall" (SA), Mark winning 4-1. Which brings us to the big time. The Grand Final between two SA players, "Mark Williams" v's "Kelvin Lee." They were fabulous games played by both players but Kelvin just couldn't keep up with the Machine, Mark Williams who won 5-1. Great weekend of play Mark, well deserved and well done. To the other awards, Blonks comp winner was "Jamie Stevens" and the best novice went to "Ash

VIC Update with Mel

Hello Ladies and Gents. Well another month has flown by so its time for me to do the Vic update. I would like to congratulate those of you who have just played in their league finals and a big good luck goes out to all of you who will be playing there finals now and over the next few month. Well as most of you know I have started playing in Thursday Elite I was really nervous because I have never played in a league before so I jumped into it head first, I found out it is really a lot of fun specially cause I think in seven weeks Id be lucky to have won 5 frames I'm somewhere near the bottom of the ladder. But I'm not in it to win just to have fun and I'm still playing wack !@#? The best part is the t-shirts have arrived being the only chick on my team (and the captain) I decided our colour would be Bright PINK! I somehow got the boys to agree; when they arrived a couple of them put them on straight away and where running around having a ball. (I think they like them more than I do!) We may not be the best team but we really stand out and that's what we were aiming for. Also please remeber that with your current membership you do get 20% discount on the stock room so your more than welcome to come see us and we will take you through so you can find something that will suit you. Don't forget if anyone has two mates that are interested in joining up please pass their details on to us so you can receive your first week of finals free. Until next month goodbye from me enjoy your time playing pool and if you are here on a Thursday Night come have a drink and a boogie in the dance floor with us all.

Ah, New Zealand...

Just one of the fabulous sites, the sulphur erupting and of course a warrior

UNDER THE TABLE WITH ANGE

Well it's that time again, I must tell you it is very slow, but I do have a few tit bits. That's funny tit bits. I must say that Kieran (Hoooge)(EDPL) Mannix has a nice rack. Not so much Dave (Elite & Wednesday) Rebbechi. A few weeks ago at my place

I stumbled across a lingerie party.

Well it didn't take that much grog for Kieran to get his gear off. Dave even less, shock horror, well guess where we ended up. You guessed it at the Poo Room, by the way next dress up is Fright Night June 30th. Speaking of Poo Room, I hear on the grape vine that one of our fav security guards is leaving us.

Lea had a big one last weekend, cause it was her b'day. So happy b'day to her and all of you owe her a belated drink. If you don't already know she drinks Bourbon & Coke. To all of those who have had a b'day or have one coming up. Happy B'Day.

I am also psychic, cause I hear bells. Can't say much more than that. By the way you all suck, I need goss and lots of it. Well that all for now. Cheers, Ange

Chooka's Birthday Party

Hi everyone, thought you all might like to see some of the pics of the drunken debauchery at Chooka's birthday last Saturday night which I stupidly nominated myself as hostess. It was definitely an eventful night complete with fireworks, underwear tearing wedgies, stumble and tumbles and our very own food fight. After, the boys (or should I say birthday boy), had finished running amok, I was left to; mop up about a litre of avocado dip (which made for great ammo in the food fight), fruitlessly trying to mend a broken table, tried to turn the word "chooka" which was spray painted onto my back wall into some fantastic piece of artwork to impress the landlord, not to mention drive myself to hospital with a broken shoulder blade (thanks Chooka). All in all it was a great night and although Batman did a great job of dressing up as a firefighter (complete with feather boa), it was Jamey Suede who proved very heroic in the firefighting department. Although Beau and Chooka had attempted to light a fire in the driveway, the only success came when Chooka kicked and launched a firecracker into my conifer which proceeded to catch alight almost instantly. Thank you for saving my house Suede and the tree sends its love. One more thing. Those of you with Barbie cars, I am proud to announce I will be playing hostess to the first official illegal Barbie Car Drags. There will be a plastic table obstacle course but alas, no avocado dip or fireworks. Bear in mind you will need someone to push you over the speed humps (see Beau). Stay tuned foe further information. HAPPY BIRTHDAY CHOOKA! Hope you get some fun out of these pics.

News from SA

Hey kiddies whats been happenin? It's Damo again down here is SA there's been a little bit going on with our 9 ball league starting and the Johnnie Walker Classic just finished. Congrats to the Machine as he beat Kelvin Lee in the final. We are half way through our leagues and its very close competition with most of the old leagies playing and a couple of new ones as well. But in the mean time hope everyone is looking forward to Berri which will be some awesome competition. Until the next time keep playing hard and as the line goes "go hard or go home."

Cya ladies and gents that is all.

Ladies Gossip Column is

Hey Guys & Girls. The ladies gossip column is back, with one slight change there is only one lady writing it!

First up I'd like to congratulate Mark "The Machine" Williams For winning the Empire Classic. He put in a great performance and only dropped a few frames for the day. Also to Kelvin Lee who came runner up. A special congratulations to Anthony "Slug" Obst who finished in the top 16 "Beans" so Damo said. All the players put in a great effort but there can only be one winner. Secondly I would like to wish everyone good luck in the Berri Open. It should be a great Tournament & may the best player win. On another note I would like to wish Celeste a belated Happy Birthday as she turned a big 19 earlier in May. Something which I'm adding to my column is a monthly movie review. This month I'm going to write about "Bride & Prejudice." As the title shows it's a bollywood meets hollywood version of Pride and Prejudice set in India. I thoroughly enjoyed the movie & it would suit the person who enjoys the light hearted romance. That's all from me now everybody take care & have fun. Kerrie-Anne

As promised, more on the Premier/NZ Challenge

From the Captain....

I'd like to Thank Kerry, Leanne and the rest of the Premier Pool crew for organising a great trip. We immensely enjoyed the competition given to us by the New Zealand side and a few too many drinks with them afterwards. Fantastic players, great guys and girls. Everyone beware of Hazel when she hits our shores as she plays awesomely. The trip was great and we look forward to returning. Thanks,

Firstly to FARQ2. Well done for making it to New Zealand! Unfortunately we couldn't go all the way but I have to say, those Kiwi's can really play. I look forward to catching up with the New Zealand guys when they are next in Australia for the Oceana Competition at Kings. After the competition had finished we let our hair down and began to be tourists. New Zealand is an amazing place and was very hard to see everything that we all wanted in the couple of days we had spare. We managed to see the natural springs and some saw the geyser at Rotorua. The next day we went downhill tobogganing where some people don't know their limits and roll several times, Suede. I'm also pleased to report that Daff learnt that feet are not to be played with at 5.00am. Compliments to Gezz for selecting 5star accomodation with spas in every room, for a bit of privacy, unlike Mandurah. The last thing we did before looking for the airport was a Mauri show and dinner. It was great. Even when they managed to get our team on stage to do the Huka. Although we went to the Casino for a couple of hours, I thought that sleep was more important as 3 hours the night before was not enough. We eventually made it home from the trip that will not be forgotten. Thanks to all, see ya! Chipa
