Glow Pool For Earth Hour 2011

Editorial:

With Finals Fever throughout March, there has been an exciting buzz amongst players. Some have had first time success & others have improved on previous seasons results, but all have taken away more experience & that can only be a good thing. Congratulations to all of the Champs, may your good games carry you through an awesome Winter Season. April sees all of the Winter Elite Leagues start, with new teams coming together for the first time & the hard core traditionalists sticking together to defend their titles from last year. With a record 36 Teams vying for Carnival Weekend spots, this year promises to be the best yet!

We also have a whole new bunch of two player social leagues & some exciting new singles leagues starting over the next two months so put the word out and see if you can interest a friend to come down & have a go. We also have a cash comp on the Easter Monday Public Holiday, it's a double life comp so come along and have a go.

March also saw one of our most popular social events go off, I mean that literally, Pool in the Dark for Earth Hour this year was awesome! Congrats to the Glow Pool winners this year, check them out in this issue & check the great Pics at missqs.com.au.

I closing I'd like to wish everyone a very Happy & Safe Easter & hope to see you at the Members & Friends Fee Play Day on Easter Sunday. Check out all the Easter Dates on the back page.

Happy Potting

Earth Hour 2011 was held On March 26th in a bid to adopt life style changes that would promote climate change. Corporate and individuals were invited to take part in Earth Hour by switching off lights of homes and offices and non essential lights like name boards and decorative lights during the designated hour.

WWF's Earth Hour is a global campaign inspiring governments, businesses, communities and individuals to take a stand against climate change. It is the largest environment campaign in the history of our planet, successfully uniting the world towards taking collective action by switching off non essential lights. Notable landmarks buildings and structures that have pledged their support and participate in the Earth Hour annually are the Eiffel Tower in Paris, the Pyramids in Egypt, Sydney Opera house and Bridge in Australia and Toronto Skyline in Canada.

Earth Hour was launched in Sydney, Australia in 2007 where 2.2 million individuals and more than 2,000 businesses turned their lights off for one hour. Just a year later, Earth Hour reached 370 cities and towns in more than 35 countries across 18 time zones, and the campaign shifted from a 'Sydney Event' to a 'Global Sustainability Movement'.

Since then, every year Earth Hour sets new standards and breaks its own records on mass participation and support. 2010 received participation from a record 1.3 million with that record being broken this year.

On the home front at Miss Q's, the room filled with supporters for the traditional Glow Pool event held for Earth Hour. All non essential lighting was off for the entire evening and people played pool by the light of glow sticks. There was a great response to the call out for the best dressed glow person with stiff competition this year. The ultimate winners were, Man - Adrian, Juniors - Storm & Stone & Lady - Chloe. The adults won terrific prize packs donated by our fantastic sponsors 'Greenfields Liquor' Thanks Guys. And the Juniors took home some great Coke & Lolly products for their amazing efforts. A Pot the Lot in the dark Comp was held over the course of the night and Evan Briggs took the final Prize Pack with 11 straight pots!

Glow Pool also marked the celebration of Daniel Kinane's 18th birthday, which just added to the party atmosphere. All in all the 2011 Glow Pool for Earth Hour event just proved that you can do good things for our Mother Earth whilst having a blast in the process. Thanks to all....

Tricks of the Trade

With the new season of Winter Elite getting underway as we speak, many of you will be looking to enhance your game and make that old win/loss ratio a little more respectable, or perhaps just iron out some kinks in your game or cueing action after the long break away from the tables since last season. Every Sunday afternoon at Miss Q's from 3 o'clock you can find our in-house coaching clinic running and catering for everything from novice to advanced players, just $15.00 gets you 3 hours of table time and any / every hint and tip that you might find helpful, covering such things as, the rules, how to break successfully, top & back spin, strategy & percentage shot selection and much much more. Guaranteed to help your game it's $15.00 well spent and will answer all the questions you can think of about this much loved game of ours.

Till I see you here next....Az.

Around the Tables with Pagey

Hey Peoples Pagey here again, it has been a month of finals in particular and seeing a lot of promising results for the newbies good work all.

Now the winter season is upon us so lets all get in the spirit and get all the teams together and go hard for that beloved carnival weekend spot. Also glow pool was just last weekend and by the sounds of it the night was great for the poeple who were there, very glowy!

Don't forget get to Topdog on Saturdays arvos at 2pm come down and have a go, you even get points for just showing up! So this is Pagey signing off, so see u around the tables Pagey
