

Play the Table

Vol 12. No.9 October 2011

Editorial:

The Big news of the month was the Ladies day out at the Country State Trials & the Girls have done a great job of telling their stories over the course of this issue, Congratulations to all of them, we are so proud of your efforts!

There was also a lot of activity on the Giant tables this month with Dooney & I playing a bit of Snooker & I will be trying my hand at some Billiards as well this weekend. Dooney made the quarter finals of the Six Red Snooker State Titles, a big well done & watch out for Dooney in Elite finals he is cueing beautifully.

There were also several birthdays celebrated at Miss Q's in September, with Mel having an awesome Rock 'n' Roll party for her 30th, Jayden celebrating his B'day with a round of Killer & several drinks & Cooper sharing is Fab Spiderman Cake with all of us for his fourth Birthday. Cheers & a Big Happy Birthday to all.

The Silly Challenges rolled on this month, with Sandy paying up in her Mankini, Clinckers smashing the Cheese & Bacon Ball Challenge with 178 Balls! Jayden losing the Royal Highness Challenge to Pagey & now bowling every time they cross paths. And the Amazing Master Break Title currently held by Anders & Jesse for potting 5 off the break. And of course the Tramp Stamp Challenge loss Brett Pickering incurred when losing to Rosa which brings me to the farewell of Brett the all time King of Silly Challenges, he has now left the shores of WA to return to Melbourne, he & his crazy themes will be missed. And talking of Themes don't forget the infamous Miss Q's Halloween Party we hold each year on October 31st, our Deco Queen will astound you with her talents as always!

Finally a Huuugh Good Luck to everyone who is heading into the Winter Elite League Finals this month, May your finest games of the season come to you in Finals & I look forward to seeing the Best Teams rise to the top for a Massive Carnival Weekend battle next Month. Please check the Miss Q's web site & back page for Finals dates. Until then....

Happy Potting
Kez

After a quick breakfast of fruit salad and yummy pikelets, the Miss Q's girls were on the road in our convoy line to Dianella for our first state trial experience. There were about 5 other girls that weren't from Miss Q's there. I had a very bad start to the day with 4 straight losses but after some liquid courage I was able to win my next 4. Unfortunately my streak stopped there and I lost the rest of my games 8-4. Oh well there is always next year and now that I know what it's all about I can be better prepared for next year. Well done to the girls that made it into the top 10 and to Nadine for making it to the top 4 and being Miss Q's top chick! Kels

2011 Country Ladies State Trials

State Country Trials: Early start at Miss Q's 7am but what a beautiful spread for brekky. Sincere thanks to Malo's lovely fresh fruit salad and Mel's awesome pancakes. We arrived at Daniela at 9am and straight on to practicing. Not long and the day had begun. I was so happy to meet and play the younger ladies I haven't had the pleasure of, from Miss Q's. There was some fantastic talent being displayed. The Mandurah team showed extreme graciousness in winning, losing and supporting their team squad. What a delightful experience with such a terrific bunch. Thanks to the guy cheerleaders – excellent job boys. I can not thank Kez enough for her truly magnificent devotion and support for her fellow ladies. You are a gem Kez thanks for all the drinks, strawberries, lollies & cheers. The end of the competition was very close. 3 ladies from elsewhere finished 1st on a draw of 16 points, I ended up with 15, Rochelle 15 and Emma 14, we all could have ended even better with little more concentration on certain games, but I'm sure most ladies enjoyed the competition. I traveled back on Sunday morning to play against the city women. I lost my first round then had a break and then played the same person again. I played better but had the jitters and let you all down. I am disappointed after the lovely cheers I received when announced in the top four that I couldn't reward Miss Q's with better news. Next year. Ps. Thanks for the facebook support.

Cheers - Nadine

Rochelle Mulroy

For those who don't know me, I'm Rochelle Mulroy and this is what happened when I headed for the ladies state qualifier in Dianella for the very first time! I am the youngest player at 13, so the pressure is so much higher for me against these other experienced and wise ladies. I couldn't wait as the weeks ticked by, so excited! I will admit waking up at 5am on the day wasn't apart of the experience I liked lol. I arrived at miss Q's around about ten to 7, almost falling asleep in the car. Everybody else looked much the same as I felt, after a few games of pool and a few energy drinks, we are all awake and ready to go. Amy and I got into the car with Kez and we drove off to Perth. The rest of the convoy followed us on forest highway. During the drive, Kez, Amy, and I discussed the rules and gave out a few helpful tips. I almost fell asleep yet again. Arriving at Limited Editions Hotel was a familiar experience. I had come here 1 year earlier for the State Junior Trial. I was so nervous. We all got out and greeted everyone else. Walking in as a representative player of Miss Q's felt nice. The other ladies were already there. Just when we were all getting comfortable, our names were called out, then we were called up to our one game opponent. It was nerve racking hearing my name called. The boys; Jayden, John, Jesse and Luke (the supporters) were all cheering with the pom poms, great support boys! Though Jayden was chilling on the couch up the back, living it up J after round one, I had won a total of 8 out of 11 games. I was so happy about it! I had got into the top 10! So I got into round 2 which had the same round format as round one. I went alright at the start, but then, for some reason, I couldn't pot anything! I was getting so annoyed at myself lol. Toward the end, I started to pot more and won about 2 or 3, still I wasn't satisfied lol. At the end, Adele and Adrian revealed the top 4, which I wasn't included, damn! I later found out that Emz and I had missed out of the top 4 by 1 point! Devo! Extremely devo! After we had all finished, we packed up and got back into the cars. Suzie joined Kez's car with us. We took the trip home, getting Reddies (nom nom) Suzie, Amy and I were full, so it was up to Kez to eat all the cheesy nuggets. (Sorry Kez!) The trip home was full of gossip and was easy going. It was so fun! Now I have more recent experience, prepared for the junior state trials on November 19th 2011, woohoo! I'd like to thank Kez for the ride and encouragement, and all of the other ladies that gave it their all! Especially Nadine who made into the top 4! Wow! Well, that's it for me, well done everyone and catch you around Miss Q's!
