

Play the Table

Editorial:

What a Massive month of Competition for the Miss Q's Leagues with, Challenge Matches, State Doubles, Country State Play-Offs & Country V City State Selections. Not to mention our fair share of social fun & games with Aaron Barfords fantastic Casino Night!

Firstly a Massive congrats to the Miss Q's Leagues on their Chupa Chup Cup Victory, such a huge effort put in by all & the hard practice clearly paid off, well done! A big thanksto Adrian & the Gero's for taking the trek south, it was a terrific day. Other Challenge news went the way of the Challengers with the Mighty Gossie Ghosts giving us a lesson in Pool, well done to Antonio Bossman & his Team, you guys are amazing!

Lots of State Team qualifying news too, with the Miss Q's Ladies in particular doing exceptionally well this year with Nadine White, Sharon Stenhouse & myself all finishing in top 4 at the Country Play Offs & I went on to make my first ever State Side :- ) I'm totally stoked & can't wait to play for WA at the National Championships here in Perth at the Kings Perth Hotel from October 14th to 25th. Another exceptionally talented Miss Q's League, Keenan Cigler also made the Men's State side, a truly terrific accomplishment from such a young player, Well Done Keenan! Feel free to come & Cheer us & WA on.

This month also saw many of the Miss Q's girls pair up at the Ladies State Doubles Championships with young Holly Jane & I getting as far as the Semi Finals, HJ played like a Legend against many of the State Ladies, what a rising star we have on our hands.

In social news, the Casino night was as popular as ever & young Jack Hayes scooped the Major Prize pack with his solid Poker playing skills, well done! Later this month we see our Suzie Q host her first ever Silly Games Championship, filling the big boots of her predecessor Games Night Host Emma Turner, Suzie has almost filled all of the team spots for this year's event, so come along and have an entertaining night of Laughter watching others do silly things for prizes & get a night of Pool for just $10! See you Saturday September 14th for this very popular event. Also later in September we will have the Ladies State team in for a Fundraising Challenge & Coaching Night, stay tuned for that date.

Finally we are hoping to secure a new Challenge Match against the Narrogin Pool team in October, this should be another scorcher :- ) Cheers til next month.

Happy Potting
Kez

Miss Q's Takes Back the Magic Cup!

This month saw the return of the infamous magic Chuppa Chup Cup to its rightful residence (Miss Q's) afterM it's 6 month incarceration at the home of the Gerro Deros (The Geraldton Italian Club). After a quality qualifier that saw a great turnout of strong players the familiar face of Rosa Chour finishing in first place and collecting the top qualifier trophy. With that out of the way we set about some scheduled practice sessions during the lead up to the challenge and following the suggestion of our mentor Master Bruce Lee we were like "water" quietly and respectfully put up with the smack talk and veiled threats emanating from the obviously already threatened Geraldton Team, who apparently couldn't even manage to attend without the threat of bringing their self-appointed representative Chuck Norris to the party for the weekend. The Friday night saw Suzie Gibbs celebrate her birthday and the Miss Q's Teams final practice session put to good use before the arrival of our Magic Cup kindly delivered by Chief Derro Adrian whom was in fine spirits after a lengthy bus trip with his crew. Matchplay day began with the traditional Bacon & Egg Sandwiches for breaky kindly cooked by Suzie, Nomes and Jabba and was welcomed by all in attendance, most of whom were suffering various levels of hangover. The day also saw another birthday in the house with Gordon 'Flash' Payne celebrating the day with some 8 ball. The format this time was changed by suggestion of Adrian to incorporate two rounds of Scotch Doubles in what appeared to be a sneaky way to steal some frames and make the score line more respectable for the Gerro's the Gerro's winning both rounds. Then the real rounds began on tables beautifully prepared by Shaz & Stone and levelled by Az &

Pagey. Miss Q's came out firing winning the first four rounds on the trot and by round nine Miss Q's had amassed a sizable lead 100-70 some 30 frames ahead and didn't look back from there finishing the day strong for a final score line of 209-171. The player of the match was taken by Geraldton player Graeme Tuffley finishing with 16 from a possible 20 wins (Had to let them win something) and the Scotch Doubles Trophy was won by Adele and Pommy

Well Done Graeme and Adele and Pom. With that there was presentation and pizza before we held the obligatory after challenge knockout which was won by two of Wa's Junior State Representatives Ben Foster of Gerro with Miss Q's Stone Stenhouse in Runner Up position. In all a good day had by all and our trophy returned awaiting the next time Geraldton talks it up enough to put us off our games and trick us out of ownership for another 6 months next time in Geraldton in January. Stay tuned for the next Challenge Match currently being discussed with Narrogin, more information and dates to follow.

Love having the last word immortalised in print Bah ha ha ha! CheersAz.

Casi-o Night Goes Off!

On the 10th of August 2013 Miss Q's Pool and Entertainment Centre hosted it's second Casino night.

Early that night, the high stakes action was solely on the Roulette table. Rosa Chour spun the roulette ball around the wheel deciding the fate of the punters, Mary loaded her pockets after landing a few straight ups and was a strong contender to take out the mid night prize.

The Blackjack table ran at a good steady pace and offered a relaxing bet for our weary players. Minimal table limits were played the majority of the night by all bar one, Jarad Page who continued to risk half or all of his bankroll for a quick win.

The Texas Hold'em No Limit hands were deadly to some, at the halfway point in the night Ethan Brenchley was the chip leader at the table, luckily enough he held that position to earn him a prize before veteran player Jack Hayes set his sights on Ethan's big stack. Jack set plenty of check raise traps in later play and eventually took out all opposition, including his own father, to be the last runner.

The end of the night was, for me, the highlight of the entire night. With the highest chip stack already determined but all other punters holding no chips, the second place chip stack prize couldn't be awarded. We all gathered around the roulette table and a single chip was handed out to each punter, they could only cover one number each, with Rosa at the helm a no win number was announced, the suspense was enormous, until 24 was announced and an excited woman shouted "That's Me" it was Andrea Turner and she took away second place.

I'd like to thank everybody who attended Miss Q's Casino night, Miss Q's staff and my own dealers Luke Mckinlay, Hayden Mckinlay and Rosa Chour, it was a great night. Aaron Barford

Gossie Ghosts - Haunt Miss 's Again!

The second challenge match for the month saw a decent field of fresh faces show up for the qualifier many of who were qualifying for their first Challenge Match for Miss Q's. With the team decided a strong top 8 played off for the what was quite possibly the dumbest trophy we have ever had on offer, kindly created and donated by Jarrad Page, apparently he agreed and after making it to the Grand Final settled into the Runner Up placing unable to stop another first time qualifier Mandar Ranganekar from taking the honours and the champion Trophy on the night. The following week on Sunday the 25th saw the freshly resurrected Gossies Ghost's Team haunt the tables once again at Miss Q's for the continuation of competition that spans nearly a decade. The "Gossie Ghosslings" had barely graced the cloth before the haunting began and in true spectral fashion began their havoc on the naive band of self proclaimed Ghost Busters from Miss Q's. The first round looked promising for the home team but once the Ghosslings found their bearings the day was well and truly set. In true disembodied fashion they went about a convincing win finishing the afternoon some 44 frames ahead 142-98 and once again claimed ownership of the battle-scarred trophy that bares the written history of our confrontations. Man-ifestation of the Match was claimed by none other than Steve DuKamp finishing with an impressive 11 from 12 possible souls for the day.

Congratulations to Steve and the Ghosslings Team on a day well haunted and a big thanks to Antonio Bossman Ferraro for raising his team from the ether for yet another haunting, we look forward to our next encounter on the green in February next year. Cheers Az.
